Summary

I am a developer located in Schaumburg, Illinois who creates mobile apps and interfaces using multiple frameworks and languages including but not limited to: java, android studio, Javascript, and react. I am looking for a role in an it industry. I'm creative and curious, and I enjoy what I do. I am also fluent in Ukrainian and I can be a great help for connecting even more people to a platform. I sometimes struggle working in large teams because I can't deploy my ideas exactly how I envisioned them. However, this is a skill I can improve with time and as Helmut Schmidt said "the biggest room in the world is the room for improvement".
